May 2024 MIS – FAQ

End of Year Preparation

The Overlap report should not have any students listed throughout the school year.

Why Is it Important? End of Year report

The End of year (EOY) report is a comprehensive report of all IEP students served at any time during the school year. The report includes all Active, Inactive, IDEA and Gifted students. The report does not include student marked as “Not Claimed” on their student profile in SPEDPro.

Data from the EOY report is used to compile the OSEP Table 4 Exit report and OSEP Table 5 Discipline report. Demographics such as student age, gender, race / ethnicity, area of disability and responsible organization and school are for OSEP reporting.

The EOY report is a critical tool for checking data quality. Areas to review include.

Students with incomplete data reported. Active status with services ending before the last day of school.

Duplicate student records submitted by the same organization. Same student with multiple records.

Missing or invalid data values can be found by filtering each column.

Grade / age cross check.

IEP date and earliest start date are the same day.

Assign child organizations are accurate.

Private / parochial neighborhood schools are accurate and reflect December 1 schools.

Exit dates and latest service end dates are equal.

Area of disability is accurate.

Neighborhood, responsible and most prevalent attendance buildings are accurate.

The Projected End of Year report should be created, reviewed, and saved at least monthly throughout the school year.
