1-141	So You Think You're Going to Live Forever	A unique message of laughter and tears for every young person who wants to drive, and live. Captain Pete Collins did not set out to become an award winning speaker. He was just a state trooper who felt the need to tell people about his experiences on the highways. The stories are not unique. Any state trooper could tell them, but Captain Collins mixes the laughter and tears of more than 23 years of patrolling the highways to bring a compelling message that young people...and their parents will not soon forget.	33 min	1990	Drunk driving	N	Y
1-143	The Greatest Heartache You'll Ever Know	"IF God will just bring the back, he can wear his hair anyway he wants." This heartbreaking plea from a man whose son was killed in an automobile crash is just one reason this video should be seen by every parent. It's a mixture of laughter and tragedy that brings home the importance of a parent-child relationship. Highway safety is an issue that affects all of us. According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, drunk driving accidents claimed the lives of over 16,000 people in 2004. A 2% decline in fatalities from 2003 is due to a combination of tougher punishment for offenders, educational programs, and dedicated professionals spreading the word about how these tragedies can be prevented.	32 min	1990	*Parent-child relationship *Drunk driving	N	N

1-163	School Trans. Security Awareness	It's difficult to imagine the possibility that our school buses could become the targets of a security threat. But the facts are unambiguous. Buses are vulnerable to attack by hijackers, suicide bombers, and remotely detonated explosive devices. Bus operations, including school buses, have been and will continue to be targets of those who use violence to promote their agendas. Every day 25 million children across the United States ride buses. Recent world events have shown us that international terrorists make no distinction between civilian and military targets. In fact, some terrorist groups have shown their willingness to use children and schools as targets. That's reality. But accepting reality doesn't mean living in fear. By applying the awareness and knowledge you'll gain in this training program, you can reduce the threat of security incidents on school buses. By working together, you can take the right actions to keep your public school transportation system safe for all your children. Now, what about your school system? How do you think the story would end if a similar incident occurred on one	26 min	2006	*Terrorism prevention *Transportation safety measures pertaining to terrorism.	N	N

1-196	Risky Business	You probably don't think of motor vehicle crash statistics when you're getting into a car with a group of friends -- but you should be aware of them. Why? In 2003, teenagers accounted for 10% of the US population, but comprised 13% of motor vehicle crash fatalities. A total of 5,691 teenagers died that year, and speeding only makes things worse. nearly one-quarter of the people who died in speed-related crashes were between ages 15 and 20. Boys stand a greater chance of dying in a motor vehicle crash than girls. For example, 66% of the deaths in 2003 were males. What's more, the larger the group of friends in that car, the greater the risk for being involved in a fatal collision. If you are driving with one of your friends in the car, you are 1-1/2 times more likely to be involved in a fatal crash than if you were alone. Add another friend, and the risk increases again. 1-373	Wireless Phone & Responsible Driving	This most amusing animated video asks and answers some basic questions about when it is ok and when it is not to use your cell phone while driving. Amazingly, the following statement came from the 1930 Farmer's Almanac ... "Some states don't want to permit RADIOS in cars at all. Radios distract the driver and disturb the peace." Of course, radios are in virtually every automobile currently produced, but it is an interesting fact that even today many vehicle accidents occur while someone is trying to change the station or inserting a cassette or CD into the radio player. If radios produce accidents, you can imagine how much more dangerous the use of cell phones is while driving an automobile, especially taking into account the many distractions what we face in today's world. This very funny video will encourage proper use of cell phones while keeping your audience entertained at the same time.	12	2001	*Use of cell phones while driving *Accidents due to distraction of cell phones	N	Y

1-376	Highway of Agony NOT recommended for children under the age of 14	This is a most disturbing video, but it's supposed to be. It's nearly 4 decades old but still powerful and extremely graphic. The opening screen sets the pace: "Due to the graphic nature of this video it is not recommended for children under the age of 14." It has been many years since the films were taken but the impact is tremendous. In fact, it might be pointed out that this was an era when few automobiles had any kind of restraint device installed, so consequently, many drivers and/or passengers were ejected in the course of a crash. Many safety features that are now standard equipment on most cars were non-existent. An ambulance was slow to arrive and there were no paramedics or emergency medical personnel standing by to be called into action. Crash victims often died before any medical help arrived. We've come a long way with many improvements in safety features for automobiles, safety awareness programs, better highways and roads, and added law enforcement. However, there is still death and injury on our roadways and video brings the message home in dramatic fashion.	20	1975 / 2003	*Traffic Accidents *Drinking and Traffic Accidents	N	N

1-382	Deadly Driving Distractions: Texting, Cell Phones, and Other Killer	According to insurance statistics, distracted drivers are responsible for almost 80% of all car crashes and 65% of near-collisions in the United States. This video helps students steer clear of the dangers resulting from driving while texting, talking on cell phones, eating, smoking, and other distractions. Forgoing the traditional host-and-interview format, the program uses conversations with teens and college students who share their thoughts on the subject while driving instructors and other educators explore safe driving methods. In addition, people with firsthand knowledge—such as emergency room personnel and car crash survivors—offer their cautionary advice.	25 min	2010	Driving while using *Cell phones *Eating *Smoking *Other distractions	N	Y
